An intensive 25 day development programme that prepares children and adult services to develop a very different range of processes, practices, experiences and outcomes through the transition process.

OUR WORK

- Two years of continuous support from the UK's leading experts in transition.
- Over 25 days of targeted support and training.
- A clear project plan to help you pilot a very different way to 'do' transition.
- Support to the Local Authority and Independent sector partners.
- A clear focus on Self Directed Support and Individualised Budgets – enabling you to develop services which will stand the test of time.
- Support around:
  - LSC funding.
  - advocacy for children and young people.
  - direct payments for children and young people.
  - developing a person centred curriculum.

WHY PARADIGM?

- Support from Paradigm's extensive network of Consultants – many of whom are the country's leading experts on transition
- You will join a network of other Local Authorities all trying to develop a much more modern way of doing Transition
- A bespoke programme of support to fit your exact needs and circumstances

WHAT YOU WILL ACHIEVE

- Membership of In Control included (the national project for the development of Individualised Budgets).
- Attendance at two annual residential seminars, linking other authorities working on Transition with leading practitioners, managers, consultants, policy makers and opinion formers.
- A minimum of 8 young people will be supported through the Transition process to do a support plan, develop their own Individualised Budget and develop a plan to implement it.
- A focus on your priorities: Self Directed Support for a group of young people with autistic spectrum disorders, Individual Budgets for young people leaving care and appropriate support or an alternative to residential college for young people leaving school based at their local college.
